KOKISPULLO

Australian Perthissä asuva Una Ronald näki suorassa lähetyksessä Kuusta, kuinka joku käveli kuvan kulmaan ja potkaisi kokispulloa, joka vieräi maassa hetken.

Hän ymmärsi heti, että koko kuulaskutuminen oli lavastettu. Uusinnoissa tämä kohta oli poistettu.

Researchers say that what was once thought to be a piece of rock brought by astronauts from the moon that sits in the Rijksmuseum in Amsterdam actually is a piece of petrified wood.

Apollo 11 astronauts, part of their "Giant Leap" goodwill tour after the first moon landing.

Middendorf, who lives in Rhode Island, told Dutch broadcaster NOS news that he had gotten the rock from the U.S. State Department, but couldn't recall the exact details.

AMSTERDAM (AP) — It's not green cheese, but it might as well be.

The Dutch national museum said Thursday that one of its prized possessions, a rock supposedly brought back from the moon by U.S. astronauts, is just a piece of petrified wood.

Rijksmuseum spokeswoman Xandra van Gelder, who oversaw the investigation that proved the piece was a fake, said the museum will keep it anyway as a curiosity.

"It's a good story, with some questions that are still unanswered," she said. "We can laugh about it."

The museum acquired the rock after the death of former Prime Minister Willem Drees in 1988. Drees received it as a private gift on Oct. 9, 1969, from then-U.S. ambassador J. William Middendorf during a visit by the three

THE SHINING

THE SHINING

Elokuva oli Stanley Kubrickin tapa kertoa, että hän ohjasi kuulaskeutumiset.

Kubrick käytti elokuvan keinoja asian kertomiseksi, koska hän tiesi, että hänet olisi tapettu, jos olisi kertonut sen suoraan.

The above photo is A15-87-11839, taken during Apollo 15. If you look closely at the landing pad for the LEM, you can see what looks to be 2 or 3 color photographs set on the pad as if for reference by the photographer.

One of them can even be identified, it seems... its a scene from Apollo 11

There's no mention of photographs of any type being brought to the moon... why would they need them? Why would they place them on the landing pad for the photo?
